

Project InVision International and EPS Consulting form strategic alliance to deliver Programme Management solutions in UK

Alliance will deliver on demand project management office solutions to UK customers

Eversley, Hampshire, UK and NOVATO, California, US– October 16, 2008

Enterprise Programme Solutions (EPS Consulting), a leading UK-based consulting firm, and Project InVision International (PII), a leading US-based on demand software vendor, today announced a strategic alliance to deliver on demand project management office (PMO) solutions in the UK. The alliance will allow both companies to drive new growth opportunities in the UK and will provide customers with on demand PMO solutions to automate a repeatable project delivery processes, increase efficiency, improve management visibility, and better utilize resources.

By combining the programme management expertise and local market knowledge of EPS Consulting with the on demand capabilities of the Project InVision software platform, the alliance will accelerate the availability of on demand PMO solutions to the UK marketplace.

The Project InVision SaaS-based solution consistently achieves the industry's fastest deployment times, enabling customers to focus on their strategic initiatives rather than laboring over the implementation of their project management system. Affordable subscription pricing breaks down the barriers associated with enterprise software deployments offering immediate availability to save companies hundreds of thousands of dollars in licensing and start-up costs.

For Project InVision International, the alliance represents a continued commitment to provide worldwide support and channel opportunities for its on demand platform. PII partners with world-class solution providers, like EPS Consulting, to implement its software and provide support and training to its global clientele.

EPS Consulting has established an outstanding reputation by developing integrated enterprise management frameworks to drive efficiency, control, performance and excellence into businesses. Under the Alliance Agreement, EPS Consulting will become a delivery partner for PII to provide deployments services to Project InVision's UK customers.

"The alliance allows us to offer on demand solutions that combine our consulting expertise with the software platform from Project InVision," said Rob Legge, Managing Principal of EPS Consulting. "The Project InVision product line provides new options to our customers for PMO solutions that are easy and affordable to implement."

"Project InVision and EPS Consulting have each delivered successful solutions in their own markets" said Meblin. "By combining our unique strengths, we will accelerate the business performance of our joint customers offering and immediate return on investment. Together, we can make a real difference for our clients."
